Sprague Launches Mobile Application for Sprague Real-Time® Online Platform

Portsmouth, N.H. – Sprague Operating Resources LLC announced the launch of its Sprague RT mobile app today. The app allows users of Sprague’s Real-Time® online buying program to buy fuel through an app specially designed for mobile usage.

The Android and iOS app offers users the ability to view all of their active products and terminal locations as well as the real-time ticking price for each. Users can bid on products or buy at the marketed rate. They can also see trading hours, contact customer care or the pricing desk, and see bid and trading history within the app.

“The success of our customers is critical to our success,” said David Daoust, managing director of e-commerce and sales for Sprague. “We take pride in being at the forefront of our industry and responding to customer needs. The new Sprague Real-Time® app better enables us to provide easier access for our customers to take advantage of market opportunities.”

The iOS app can be found in the iTunes store, and the Android app can be found in the Google Play store.

In 2003, the launch of the Sprague Real-Time® online pricing program made Sprague the first wholesaler to provide real-time online pricing to retailers across the Northeast. In 2012, Sprague updated its real-time online platform by launching its own proprietary platform to better respond to customer needs. Today, the platform is supported by products available at more than 40 terminals, offers contracts in quantities to fit customer needs, and offers price protection programs in quantities as low as 1,000 gallons over an entire season, with the customer customizing their own month and volume combinations.
